

Lots to do and see in Cambridge this holiday weekend

COMMUNITY Aug 02, 2017 04:10 Cambridge Times

SHARE

Those looking to make the most of the civic holiday weekend will find plenty of things to do and see in the city.

Starting Friday, Aug. 4, Mill Race Festival of Traditional Folk music will be running in downtown Galt for three days. This free event features folk music performances at multiple venues throughout the downtown core along with a children's stage, crafts, food and vendors.

Keeping in tune with the folk theme, Cambridge Farmers' Market will be hosting a morning of folk fun Saturday entertaining shoppers with the sounds of the Ever-lovin' Jug Band and Onion Honey. There will also be a children's craft area.

Families with young children may want to check out the Idea Exchange library's Queen's Square branch Saturday to learn about 3D printer basics, or visit the Preston location for a Stay and Play program. The library will also be hosting a Circuit Circus on-site at the folk festival.

Art lovers can choose from three exhibitions this weekend at Cambridge Centre for the Arts and Idea Exchange. On display at the arts centre is The Grand: Perspectives and Motion, a collection of photographs by artist Jim Blomfield. Show. 17 is currently on view at the Queen's Square gallery, showcasing the works of 15 emerging Ontario artists and Design at Riverside is hosting Streaming Edison: 21st Century Luminescence.

Residents can also cool off at city outdoor pools or spray pads. Outdoor pools will be open all weekend running on regular hours. For swim schedules, visit www.cambridge.ca/swim.

City hall and some city facilities will be closed for the weekend. To see what's open and closed, visit www.cambridge.ca/publicnotices.