

Zombie walk returns to downtown Galt Oct. 28

COMMUNITY 11:59 AM Cambridge Times

Take your walking dead to Cambridge Farmers' Market Saturday, Oct. 28 to participant in the annual fall Zombie Walk.

Participants can learn the famous zombie dance moves from Michael Jackson's Thriller, plus have a chance to add some of their own unique zombie moves. Dance practice will be on the evening prior at Cambridge Centre for the Arts in the Toyota Room with local dance artist Michele Hopkins instructing.

On the Saturday morning, zombies will infest Cambridge Farmers' Market and downtown Galt, entertaining the crowds with their zombie dance. All levels of dance experience are welcome. It's up to each participant to dress up like a zombie for the event.

Pre-registration is required and some spots are still available. To register go to News and Public Notices on the city's website at www.cambridge.ca and search for "zombie walk."